HELPS START LIBRARY FOR INDIA VILLAGE

With 100 books already on hand and with a goal of at least 500 books, Mrs. Richard Wayburn, Aspers R. 1, is gathering volumes to be used to help a young school teacher in South India found a library in a nearby village.

Mrs. Wayburn, who already has sent some books and has given other help to the needy in Kerala, South India has been told by T. M. Sebastian, the young junior high school teacher, that when the library is founded in the village of Kollappally it will be called the Wayburn library.

Plans are being made to invite a recently elected assemblyman, Mr. Matthews, to the village for the "inauguration" of the library.

Good Books Acceptable

Friends of Mrs. Wayburn, some of them active in UNICEF work in the county as she is and others who are Friends of the Adams County Library, have already given books. "If there are others who have books they would like to share with this young teacher, we will be happy to pick them up and dispatch them to him," Mrs. Wayburn said. "The books will be deeply appreciated and their use manifold."

Mrs. Wayburn said "all good books are acceptable." She has enlisted the help of an experienced librarian, now retired, to help her make selection of the books to be sent. "Particularly nice are the Golden Book series, any high school or college books of learning, condensed Readers Digest books, classics, picture books depicting business, industry, agriculture in the U.S.A., Canada or South America. Biographies of Abraham Lincoln are favorites."

The Adams County Library has donated some "discarded" books, the Biglerville Garden Club is helping with the book collection and other groups and individuals are helping Mrs. Wayburn's project.

For more information on the project, interested persons may call Mrs. Wayburn at Biglerville 225-R-4 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Joint Board Will Meet Monday Night

The selection of an architectural firm for the proposed "additional secondary facilities" at Gettysburg High School is on the agenda for the March meeting of the Gettysburg Joint School Board to be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Room 126 at the high school building. GIVE PROGRAM ON AMERICAN MUSIC FOR DAR

Mrs. M. Scott Moorhead, Carlisle St., assisted by Mrs. Harold Closson and students from Gettysburg College presented a program on American music Friday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Gettysburg Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at the home of Mrs. Mark A. Eckert, Springs Ave.

David McGaughy gave a dramatic reading of "Music on the Muskatic" by Jesseman West. Mrs. Moorhead explained that "America was late in creating her own music because at an early date serious music was the property of an elite few due to the lack of musical institutions and schools. These few people decided that the only good music was foreign music. A person had to go to Europe and be acclaimed there before he was accepted here. This situation continued for 100 years and it is only recently that we have found our own music."

As examples of U.S. progress in music, representative selections were given. Mrs. Closson played George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." Edward Palmer, bass-baritone, sang "All Day in the Prairies" and "Old Man River," accompanied by George Boyer on the piano. A trio composed of Joseph Winkler, cellist; Charles MacDonough, violinist, and Mr. Boyer played "At Dawning" and selections from "Oklahoma." "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," "Surrey with the Fringe on Top," and "Out of My Dreams."

Mrs. Scharf Reports

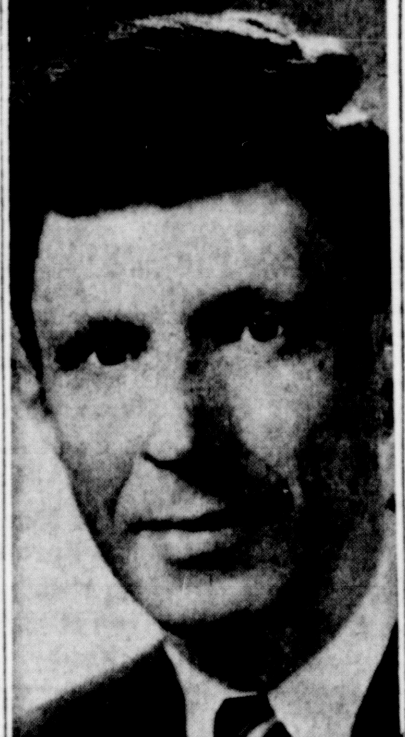

At the business meeting Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, regent, presided. Mrs. Mark K. Eckert acted as chaplain in the absence of Mrs. William Hennig. Mrs. Scharf gave the annual report and said that "all officers and committees have functioned tirelessly. We have tried hard to keep our theme concentrated on our American heritage."

Mrs. Donald G. Oyler, corresponding secretary, announced that the junior committee of the Yorktown Chapter of the DAR has invited the members to attend a luncheon and auction at the New

U.S. Sun-Powered-Battery-Driven Sphere Will Cross Moon's Orbit Today And Head For 5-Months Trip To Circle Around Sun

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer V hurtled on through the silent reaches of space today, heading for its destined place as a tiny new sister planet between Earth and Venus.

By 8 a.m. EST, 24 hours after launching, it was estimated to be about 187,150 miles from earth. By 3 p.m. this afternoon, it would cross the moon's orbit around the earth, about 232,000 miles out. Then it will plunge onward in its five-month trip to an orbit around the sun.

The 26-inch sphere is packed with cunningly miniaturized scientific instruments, already sending to earth a wealth of important new information on what it's like out there. Someday men may follow it.

Low Radio Signals

Every hour or so, on command from stations on earth, one of the satellite's two radios switches on, sends back the low clear signal for 15 minutes, and then is switched off by a man standing back here on terra firma. This is done to conserve the sun-powered batteries.

Pioneer V is the third man-made thing to be hurled into a planet-like orbit around the sun. The brilliant success of its Thor-Able launching rocket and the

WGET Hooks To Mutual Chain 5 P.M. Sunday

The way the entire world sounds as it creates daily headlines becomes a reality for Gettysburg listeners, starting Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock when WGET initiates its affiliation with the all-radio Mutual network.

The station's management decided on the affiliation because it will permit an expanded news broadcasting service for WGET without altering in any major way the local programming services to which the station's listeners have been accustomed and have indicated they appreciate. WGET's "image" to its Gettysburg listeners remains the same. Its impact becomes stronger.

One of the major aspects of the MBS affiliation will be availability of specialized news and news feature services tailor-made for WGET broadcast. These will be in addition to the twice-hourly five-minute world-wide news broadcasts by such celebrated newsmen as Westbrook Van Voorhis, Steve McCormick (also Mutual's Washington and news vice president), Gabriel Heatter, Fulton Lewis Jr., Cedric Foster, and many others with many years' experience in the news field.

Use Actual Voices

Van Voorhis has been a news broadcaster for 31 years and Gabriel Heatter, who started his reportorial career as a 13-year-old copy boy and social news gatherer for a Brooklyn, N. Y., weekly, has been police reporter, city

IRISH BRIGADE ASSOCIATION IS COMING MAY 30

The Irish Brigade Memorial Association will again take part in Gettysburg's Memorial Day program and will present a program at the Irish Brigade marker on the Battlefield the same afternoon.

Thomas McGuigan Jr., Philadelphia, of the Irish Brigade Memorial Association, wrote Chester S. Shriver, chairman of the Memorial Day committee here that "we will be back again May 30 to take part in your outstanding service."

Last year approximately 200 members of the Irish Brigade Association and their wife and drum corps took part in the parade here and then held a special memorial service at the Celtic Cross marker of the Irish Brigade near the Wheatfield.

McGuigan, in his letter to Shriver, said that in addition to the group that came here last year, the "Irish War Veterans," a Philadelphia American Legion post which wears green uniforms, will participate in the Memorial Day services.

After taking part in the Memorial Day parade here and the services in the cemetery, the Irish group will march to the Irish Brigade marker where Jeremiah O'Callaghan, national president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, will be the principal speaker.

Warner Hospital Approved Again

Annie M. Warner Hospital is among nearly 6,000 hospitals that have been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. It has been on the approved list for a number of years. The accreditation program is a voluntary one and only those hospitals which request surveys are visited. Dr. Kenneth B. Babcock, commission director, said that of the 6,000 eligible hospitals over 4,500 have applied and of this number about 75 per cent are accredited.

The JCAH is an agency established by four organizations—the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association—to conduct the hospital survey and inspection program initiated by the American College of Surgeons in 1919.

"Accreditation of a hospital means," Dr. Babcock said, "that it has voluntarily submitted to a survey of its facilities and its patient care. It is a badge of recognition which the hospital can display to its community to prove that it conforms to high standards of patient care."

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON

AP Newsfeatures
It was like the scene from a movie about a dread disease, this trouble we had with our gladioli. When the horticulturists to whom we sent infected plants diagnosed white-break, they might just as well have shrieked "PLAGUE."

But back to Act One. We were pretty lucky becoming glad fans, neighbor Arthur Hawkins and I, A. mutual acquaintance, planning to travel for a year, offered us his extensive bulb collection. So we planted across the road from each other.

All went well the first year except for one incident. Starting rather late and being preoccupied with other things (also called lazy), I resorted to small, labeled sticks to separate the varieties. We also had a new puppy, which pulled up and mixed all the branded sticks.

Varieties Noted
Fortunately, Arthur had many of the same varieties and as they bloomed, we were able to identify them and remark the varieties with sturdy wire standards made for just such segregation.

Then dark clouds appeared—suspicious streaks in the gladioli, mosaic in the foliage, some stunting. We scurried to the garden of a doctor friend, the neighborhood summa cum laude glad grower. His patch was infested. He had not recognized the disease.

That's when we pulled up plants, corms and all, and sent them to horticulturists at three universities. White-break, they chorused.

Destruction Urged
Destroy all the plants, we were urged. There was one ray of hope. One expert suggested we might curb the disease in a couple of years by roguing and destroying every infected plant, by regularly spraying those remaining with DDT or Lindane to reduce possible insect-carriers of the virus.

Our doctor friend destroyed all. He could recoup financially by delivering an extra baby that spring. We rogued.

No one seemed to know just how white break was transmitted, except that it spread faster than propagation alone would do it. One expert said transmission was internal, via the infected parent corm. And if you had white-break in your garden last year, you surely would have it again if you used bulbs from the same plants.

Advice Given
In some areas, gardeners have been advised to keep gladioli and beans far apart. In the presence of bean mosaic, we were told, white-break becomes more severe. Even the glad cutting-knife will spread the virus.

Some of the effects and signs of white-break are lack of roots on new corms, absence of bulbs on severely infected plants; color-breaking, mosaic, streaking in unopened buds, hooding of petals, a yellow-green speckling or mottling, gray specking in the foliage, weak, spindly shoots, warty corms (in late stages).

Generally, infected plants do not show effects until the season after initial infection.

Floriets on mosaic-affected plants usually are smaller and may be ruffled, or deformed. They may open more slowly and age more rapidly.

Gladioli has diverse uses in the garden. I prefer to use them as a border or alone, but many gardeners mix them with annuals or perennials with striking effect. They grow best in full sunlight, away from food-depleting shrubs and large trees.

Will Train Many Indians In Steel

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's steel industry has agreed to train 100 Indian engineers a year over the next three years to meet what India's Premier Nehru calls a need for "trained human material" to man his country's expanding steel program.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says the program provides in-plant training for India's selected graduate engineers to help insure success of that nation's current five-year industrialization plan.

Mobot, Man-made, May Get First Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first "man" on the moon actually may be a mobile robot called a "mobot."

Planes-Aerospace, official publication of the Aerospace Industries Assn., says the "mobot" has been developed by a missile company for experimental tests in radioactive areas too dangerous for man.

The publication says the "mobot," equipped with flexible steel hands and television-camera eyes, is part of a full scale experimental program to measure effects of atomic radiations upon electronic components.

Wildcat At Library Goes Out To Dinner

The stuffed wildcat at the Adams County Free Library went out to dinner the other night.

It was his first night out in many a year but he seems to have taken the outing in stride for he has returned to his display shelf at the main library building to resume his baleful glare at awed youngsters who stop to stare.

A few days ago a library patron asked Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, the librarian, for a color picture of a wildcat, explaining that she needed the picture for a dinner to be held by a group called "The Wildcats."

"We can do better than that," Mrs. Wilson said. "We'll lend you our wildcat." And she displayed the ferocious looking product of the taxidermist's art that has been on exhibition at the library for nearly a decade.

The unidentified patron was delighted, borrowed the wildcat and in due course returned it the day after the dinner at which the "cat" was the center of interest and was the main attraction at an "unveiling" ceremony.

The wildcat and a collection of smaller mounted animals and birds of this area was presented to the library some years ago from the collection of the late G. W. Chritzman.

U. S. EYES CUT 3 COMMITTEES IN FORCES IF USSR FOLLOWS

PARIS (AP)—The United States has agreed to slash its armed forces to 2,100,000 men if the Soviet Union does the same, informed sources said today.

The Western Allies were to meet again today to put the final touches to a package plan they will present to the Soviet Union when the 10-nation disarmament talks open in Geneva Tuesday.

Informers said the package would be a high-light of a three-part scheme proposed to the Communist bloc for reducing military forces and ending the nuclear weapons race.

Work For Unity
The United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy have been working out differences to present a united front at Geneva. The Western plan calls for three main stages:

1. Establishment of an international disarmament agency to centralize all records of armaments and troops maintained by all nations.
2. Agreement by all nations involved to stop producing nuclear weapons and to convert materials on hand to "atoms for peace" programs; reduce the armed forces of the Soviet Union and the United States.
3. End of production of nuclear weapons and ballistic missiles with a military use; and eventually reduction of armies of all nations to the lowest level needed for security.

The West will come up against a rival disarmament plan authored by Nikita Khrushchev. The Soviet Premier wants total disarmament, with the first stage limiting United States, the Soviet Union and Red Chinese forces to 1,700,000 each and Britain and France to 650,000 each.

The Soviet Union now has 3,623,000 men in uniform, but Khrushchev has said 1,200,000 will be demobilized within the next year or two. The U.S. Defense Department last December reported American armed forces at 2,500,817 men.

Ridgway May Head Study Commission

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was reported today a leading candidate for the chairmanship of Gov. Lawrence's Education Study Commission.

The 65-year-old former Army chief of staff's emergence as the prominent figure to head the commission was reported by administration sources who declined to be identified.

Whether or not he has already accepted, however, both the administration and Ridgway were keeping secret. The governor is expected to name about three dozen educators and interested laymen to the commission next Wednesday.

"I haven't any comment at all on that," Ridgway answered when asked whether he will head the group. Ridgway is chairman of Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh.

MAN KILLS 2 BABY SITTERS

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 29-year-old gunsmith was arrested today and charged with murdering two young girls who had minded his children. Police said Henry C. Warth admitted shooting to death Penny Qualls, 13, and her cousin, Linda Qualls, 12.

Warth, grandson of a prominent judge, offered no resistance when four officers took him into custody less than six hours after the bodies had been found in the Warth home Friday night.

He was arrested when a patrolman spotted him driving his car. His two children were with him in the car, and both were unharmed. A loaded machine gun and several other loaded weapons were found in the car.

Detective Herman Frazier quoted Warth as saying that he had arrived home Friday night and about five minutes later went for a .22 caliber rifle.

Frazier said Warth had admitted shooting the older girl in the head, then reloading and wounding the younger girl in the neck. Warth said he then choked Linda and pulled off an undergarment, police said.

BLIMP BURST COST $400,000

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—A Navy blimp had a $400,000 blow out Friday when its silvery gas bag ripped open on a house top as it was landing. The 24 persons aboard were unhurt.

The ZPG-2W blimp had been on a picture taking mission over New London, Conn.

As the helium gas whooshed out of the torn bag the blimp's car settled 30 feet to the ground. The men walked away from the slightly damaged car.

The 243-foot long aircraft tore a hole in the roof of the home, the residence of Cmdr. Gordon E. Burk. He was away on leave at the time.

Cmdr. Benjamin B. King Jr., of Lockport, N. Y., was commander of the blimp.

The Navy said the damages totalled $400,000, about a fifth the cost of the ship.

Pennsylvanians aboard the blimp were Ensign Franklin L. Rodgers of Box 96, Armagh; AT-2 William Maddox Jr., of Route 2, Stewartstown; and AMH-2 Gerald M. Sheridan of Steelton.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An irate motorist fumed while a stalled freight blocked a crossing.

even make tentative plans to go home," said Lt. Col. Emmett Plunkett, task force commander.

$40 Million Loss
Last week's dual ice and snow storms caused an estimated 40 million dollars in damage and in business loss to Georgia. The latest storm added to the estimate but posed no serious threat to the rich peach crop further south.

Wildlife people reported frozen deer and dead quail littering some parts of the ice-covered states. National Guard units in snow-buried Scott County, Virginia, provided tons of food and coal for residents in short supply.

In Bowling Green, Ky., one of the hardest hit cities, National Guard trucks were used as ambulances to bring expectant mothers from rural homes to hospitals. More than four inches of snow topped Bowling Green's 23.9 inch accumulation of Wednesday.

"No more snow," reported Tennessee weather forecasters. Some families remained stranded in the Smoky Mountain area where snow piled as high as 40 inches.

Emmitsburg Man Sentenced Again

The men who assaulted a jail turnkey in an attempt to escape last month were given prison terms by Magistrate Edward D. Storm, Frederick, Thursday.

James Edward Carbaugh, 20, of Emmitsburg, and Kenneth William Stull, 22, of the Frederick area, were both sentenced to three months in the Maryland House of Correction.

They were charged with assault and battery upon Frederick jail turnkey Irvin F. Crouse during a jail break on February 3 at 7:55 p.m. A second charge of jail breaking preferred against the two men was not pressed by State's Attorney Rothenhofer.

Carbaugh, who had been sentenced by the Circuit Court earlier this week to a two-year term in the Maryland Reformatory for Males for breaking and entering and larceny at an Emmitsburg grocery store, will probably serve his reformatory sentence first before being sent to the House of Correction on the assault and battery charge.

Stull, who had also been charged with the robbery of Green's Esso service station in New Market on January 2, had his case continued in Circuit Court recently because of the weather. He will probably start serving his three-month term in the House of Correction for the assault upon the turnkey immediately.

New Setback For Rescuers

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—Rescue crews, working feverishly to reach 18 miners entombed since Tuesday, suffered an agonizing setback today when a new ventilating system failed to clear passageways of deadly fumes.

Officials of Island Creek Coal Co. and Crawford L. Wilson, state mines chief who is directing the rescue operation, said it would be 10 to 24 hours more before additional underground construction work is completed.

"We have met with some disappointment in our plan of reversing the air flow over the fire area," Wilson told a pre-dawn press conference. "But we are continuing with plans to reach the area where the miners are presumed to be located."

Smoke and gases, along with intense heat from the smoldering coal fire, have thwarted rescuers for four days. The fate of the men is not known, but mine officials believe they had time to barricade themselves off half a mile from the fire.

borough council, at their March meeting in the council chambers
at the engine house Monday night,
adopted the recommendation of Councilman John D. Teeter, second

The action followed general endorsement of the announcement

before Lincoln's birthday, that henceforth the newspaper would refer to the square as LINCOLN

were unanimously in favor of the

Today's Talk

DON'T ARGUE

The fool's favorite pastime is arguing. Don't argue — explain.
We all must have our opinions.
And if they are opinions worth having, they are opinions worth fighting for. But let us all be honest, respecting the ideas and viewpoints of others — matching ours with theirs, but never arguing to useless ends. Don't argue — explain.

We all have a right to whatever opinion we may have, but to defend it in small and narrow bickerings is worse than to have no opinion. Don't argue — explain.
The original purpose of argument was that people should match ideas and opinions, and not put them up like prize fighters in the ring — one or the other to be knocked out in order to win.
Don't argue — explain.

Be brief and explicit in your explanation, sincere and straightforward. Never lose your temper in an argument and never argue with a person who loses his temper. It never pays. Don't argue — explain.

An argument is based on the clash between two viewpoints and two people may be arguing in opposite directions, both thinking to reach the same end. Bitter arguing between them would never get anywhere. But calm, dispassionate explanation and a comparison of viewpoints often and most always does bring about agreement. Don't argue — explain.

Just Folks

WHAT SORT OF A FRIEND
ARE YOU?

What sort of a friend are you?
Do you stick by a brother's side
As you know you'd want him to do
If you were as sternly tried?
Is there ever a pleasure rare
That you willingly go without
To share another's care,
And smilingly help him out?

What sort of a friend are you?
Just one of the fair day kind;
A smile when the skies are blue,
Ahead when he falls behind?
Do you put yourself out at all?
Do you pass up a joy that's nigh?
To answer a brother's call,
Or selfishly hurry by?

Do you stick when his days are glum,
As you did when his days were fair?
When he wishes that you would come
Do you eagerly hurry there?
Or do you think of yourself
Each minute the whole day
through,
Of comfort, of fame and pelf?
What sort of a friend are you?

ALTOONA BOWS IN PLAYOFFS

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—For the first time in five years, Altoona
is not the PLAA District 6 Class
A basketball champion.
Altoona, which had defeated
Johnstown twice earlier this season,
lost to that team here Friday night, 65-60, in the Class A final.
The loss also snapped a 17-game winning streak for Altoona.
After Altoona fought back to gain a 46-46 tie in the third quarter, Johnstown applied the pressure and went on to win. High scorer for Johnstown was Marty Toth with 27 points. Jim Curry paced Altoona with 24.
In another Class A title game,
South Hills copped the District-8 championship, downing Fifth Avenue, 50-44 at Pittsburgh.
Una Calloway with 16 points
Carl Wade with 15 sparked South Hills. For Fifth Avenue, Ted Andrews and Ulysses Winn scored 12 points each.
Three Class B titles were also decided. In District 5, Meyersdale downed Saxton-Liberty at Bedford, 73-61. Keystone copped the District
9 championship, defeating St.
Mary's, 58-54, at Punsutawney.
Finally, the District 10 title went to Lawrence Park at Meadville.

Lawrence Park at Meadville
saw the truck contents ablaze.
He drove the truck into the farmyard of C. K. Criswell, near Bermudian, and with the help of his cousin, Eddie Marks, who was accompanying him, extinguished
the blaze with water from the Criswell farm.

Firemen Elect David Tawney

Fire Department has a new house following the resignation of Raymond E. Menges. David Tawney was named, after Menges submitted his resignation because his duties as a borough officer, he said, prevented him from continuing as secretary.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE PENN'S CREEK MASSACRE

The early history of what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, is a closely interwoven
chapter of the Pennsylvania frontier from 1728 to 1785; particularly during the old Indian Wars, beginning with the defeat of General Edward Braddock and his army on July 9, 1755. The result of that catastrophe was precisely what the people living on the then western frontier expected. The story of the first massacre to take place after the Braddock fiasco is commonly known as the "Penn's Creek Massacre"
and it began on October 16, 1755.
The settlements made along the tributaries of the Susquehanna River, north of the Blue Ridge, after the Indians sold most of the land in that region to the Penns by treaty (known as the Albany Treaty) in 1754 became in a year or two more the scenes of the first Indian massacre on the Pennsylvania frontier.

One of these settlements was along what was called the Little Mahogany or John Penn's Creek,
a stream now known as Penn's Creek. It flows into the Susquehanna at Selinsgrove. It was in this valley that the first tragedy,
after the French and Indian war,
took place on the Monongahela, took place and when the news arrived at Harris' Ferry John Harris and a party of local settlers went up the Susquehanna to bury the victims. The settlers killed or taken Dutchmen but actually they were,
for the most part, Swiss-Mennonites.

"Killed And Scalped"
One of the inhabitants who escaped the Indians and their French allies had this to say of the massacre: "That on or about the sixteenth of October (1755)
the enemy came down upon the said Creek (Penn's) and killed, scalped and carried away all the men, women and children,
amounting to 25 persons in number, and wounded one man who fortunately made his escape —
later we went out to bury the dead
whom we found most bar-barously murdered and scalped.
We found but 13, which were men and elderly women, and one child or two weeks old, the rest being young women and children we suppose to be carried away prisoners: the House (where we suppose they finished their Murder),
we found burnt up, and the man of it, named Jacob King, a Swiss-ar, lying just by it; he lay on his back barbarously burnt and two Tomahawks sticking in his forehead; one of the tomahawks, marked newly with W. D., we have sent to your Honour. The terror of which has drove away
almost all these back inhabitants except us, the Subscribers, with a few more who are willing to stay and endeavor to defend the land; but as we are not able of ourselves to defend it for want of guns and Ammunition and but few in number, so that, without assistance we must fly and leave the Country to mercy of the Enemy."

The first settlement the Indians attacked was evidently that of Jean Jacques LeRoy, a French Huguenot. He arrived in America with his family in 1752. The neighbors to the east of the LeRoy tract were the family of Sebastian Leininger, a German, who came to this country in 1748.
Fine Body In Ruins
At his settlement on Penn's Creek Jean Jacques LeRoy (or Jacob King, as his neighbors called him) was murdered defending his home and family. His body was found partially burned in the ruins of a log cabin.
His daughter, Maria Leininger,
and his son, Jacob Jr., were taken captive by the Indians. Meanwhile a neighbor, named Bastian,
attacked by the shots and the fire,
rode over to investigate and was promptly killed by the savages.
Next the Indians proceeded to the Leininger home where they killed the father of the family and his 20-year-old son. Two daughters, Barbara Leininger, aged 12 years,
and Regina Leininger, aged about 10 years, were taken captive.

Unfortunately on the journey to the west with their captors, the Leininger sisters were separated and Regina's ultimate fate remained for many years a mystery. She was one of the many Indian captives swallowed up and lost in what was then regarded as a vast unknown country—the area

beyond the Blue Mountains.

Names Are Preserved

The names of the persons captured during the Penn's Creek massacre have been preserved and they were as follows: Barbara Leininger, Regina (Rachel) Leininger, Marie LeRoy, Jacob Le-Roy, Marian Wheeler, Hannah
Breylinger, the wife of Jacob Breylinger, and two of their children; Peter Lick and his two sons, John and William Lick (Pennsylvania Archives First Series, Volume 3, page 633).

As previously stated in this article Barbara Leininger and Marie LeRoy were neighbors, living approximately one-half mile apart
in the Penn Creek Settlement.
When the Indians, who took these girls and the other captives, arrived at Chinklacumose (Clearfield), Marie's brother, Jacob Le-Roy, was left with the Delaware of that place. The savages with the remainder of their captives went on to Kittanning at which place they arrived in December, 1755. Here they remained until after Colonel John Armstrong and his army destroyed this noted
Delaware village September 8, 1756.

Preferred Indians

Soon after Colonel Armstrong's expedition Barbara Leininger and Marie LeRoy were taken by the Indians to Fort Duquesne (Pittsburgh). During their two-month stay the French at the fort tried to persuade the two girls to leave the Indians and remain with them, but they (Barbara and Marie) could "not abide the French" and felt that they were better off among the Indians. From Fort Duquesne, they (the two girls) were taken to Saucon, located at the mouth of Beaver Creek, where they remained until the spring of 1757. That this was not to be their final destination is shown by the fact that they were at Kuskuskie, among the Delaware, when Christian Frederick Post visited that place in the autumn of 1758 on his peace mission to the Western Delawares.

Shortly after General Forbes
captured Fort Duquesne on November 28, 1758, the unfortunate captives were taken to the Muskingum. From the latter place the girls made their escape on March 16, 1759, coming to the newly erected Fort Pitt (Fort Duquesne).
Finally on May 6 of that same year the two arrived in Philadelphia. Here they appeared before the Provincial Council and gave an account of their terrible experiences, part of which follows:

Killed With Tomahawks

"Early in the morning of the 16th of October, 1755, while Le-Roy (the father of Marie) went out to fetch the cows, he heard the Indians shooting six times.
Soon after, eight of them came to the house and killed Marie Le-Roy's father with tomahawks. Her brother defended himself desperately for a time but was at last overpowered. The Indians did not kill him but took him prisoner,
together with his sister, Marie Le-Roy, and another little girl who was staying with the family.
Thereupon they (the Indians)
plundered the homestead and set it on fire. Into this fire they laid the body of the murdered father (Jean Jacques LeRoy), feet foremost, until it was half consumed.
Then they kindled another fire not far from the house. While sitting around it, a neighbor of LeRoy, named Bastian, happened to pass by on horseback. He was immediately shot down and scalped."

The notes on the Penn Creek massacre will be continued in this column next week.

In Jhabua, a state of Central India, a medical dispensary was

WESTMINSTER ENDS REIGN OF TENNESSEE

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Westminster College Titans of New Wilmington, Pa., the coolest basketball crew to show here in many a year, meet the sharp southwest Texas State Bobcats for the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) cage
title tonight.

Coach Charles (Buz) Ridl's Titans ended the three-year reign of Tennessee A & I State 39-38,
in Friday night's semifinals.
Southwest Texas State, coached by Milton Jowers, had little more than a warmup in beating William Jewell of Liberty, Mo., 82-44.

Well-planned Game
Even the old-timers can't recall
a better planned and more effective plot than the one pulled by Westminster against Tennessee A & I, which had a streak of 18 victories going in tournament play.

"We met in late afternoon and charted our play," said Ridl. "We planned to control the ball and not let Tennessee State run at any cost. We knew Tennessee State was a great team."

Westminster won it on Don Mc-Caig's rebound shot with three seconds left after a three minute offensive stall designed for a winner-lose last shot.

The Titans simply refused to let Tennessee State shake loose. The Tigers got fidgety and made too many mechanical errors.

Coach Harold Hunter of Tennessee praised Westminster as a fine team and promised that his team would be back next year.

Duel Seen Tonight

Tonight's championship final promises some sort of duel involving Westminster's 5-9 Chuckie Davis,
a master dribbler, and Charlie Sharp, Southwest Texas' great hook shooter.

Davis, who played high school basketball at South Union Township, Pa., was the playmaker and key man in Westminster's effort Friday night. He and Ron Johnson of Tennessee State shared the scoring honors with 15 points each.

CHAMBERLAIN SETS 8 MARKS

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors almost single-handedly re-wrote the National Basketball Assn. record book as he figured in eight of the 11 new individual marks.

Statistics released today by the NBA for the complete regular season listed Chamberlain's records
as:

Total points, 2707, highest average, 37.6; field goals attempted, 2311; field goals scored, 1065; free throws attempted, 991; games scoring 50 or more points in a season, 5; rebounds, 1941; rebounds per game, 26.9, most minutes played, tied with Gene Shue,
Detroit, 3338.

Bob Cousy and Bill Russell of Boston and Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis also had a hand in the record smashing.

Cousy created a new assists
standard of 9.5 per game on 715 setups. Russell set an individual game record of 51 rebounds while Baylor 64 points smashed Joe Fulks' high of 63 for a single game.

Rochester Takes 6th Straight Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
You can't blame the Springfield
Indians for being a little uneasy
even though they hold a six-point lead today in the American Hockey League. The second place Rochester Americans have won their last six games to not only strengthen their hold on the runnerup spot
but toss a threat at the Indians.
The Indians have eight games to play and the Americans seven before the season winds up March 27.

Rochester's No. 6 was a 6-5
overtime decision over the Providence Reds in the league's only game Friday night. Dave Creighton scored the winning goal at 2:29 of the overtime after the Reds had come through with three goals in less than three minutes in the final regular period to tie the score.

Stan Smrke got two of Rochester's goals. Bo Elik and Nick Mickowski also scored two each for Providence.

THOMAS SETS NEW MARK IN CHICAGO JUMP

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—"I have no set goal, I'm going to keep on jumping and winning," says world record breaker John Thomas.

Thomas, a 19-year-old Boston University sophomore, was the main attraction in the Chicago
Relays and he didn't disappoint anyone in the capacity crowd of 10,000 in the International Amphitheatre Friday night.

He set a new mark of 7-2 1/2
which he said he hopes to better tonight when he competes in the Greater Boston Collegiate meet at Medford, Mass.

"I felt real good," said Thomas.

"I must have, otherwise I don't think I would have done it. Sure, I've tried it before but never made it. Maybe I did better in practice, I don't know."

Thomas, who severely injured
his left foot a year ago in a moving elevator and had to undergo plastic surgery and skin grafts,
now has cleared 7 feet or better in his last 11 meets. In the national AAU meet last month, he broke all previous records with a 7-2 effort.

Thomas played it cool Friday night. He loosened up by jumping six feet a couple of times and then sat out. He tried 6-4 and failed and then succeeded. By the time the bar reached 6-9 1/2 he ran out of competition.

Thomas then asked to have the bar raised to 7 feet 1/4 inch. A hush came over the crowd.
Thomas went over but his hand
clipped the bar and it fell.

His second attempt was good.
Thomas asked to have the bar placed at 7-2 1/2. Again he missed on his first attempt. After a short rest, Thomas loped towards the bar and with a determined effort cleared it.

The crowd let out a thunderous roar, then went silent when the announcer said the height had to be remeasured. Another roar went up when the announcement came that Thomas had cleared 7-2 1/2.

SIR ANTHONY'S BOOK—
Britain's Handsomest, Most Gentlemanly
Statesman Write Quarrelsome Memoirs

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

A MORE HANDSOME or often pictured statesman has never graced the stage of world affairs
than has England's Anthony Eden. But until you came to the end of the foregoing sentence,
you had most likely forgotten him.

All of us had forgotten him until his memoirs began running serially in British periodicals.
What he had written about some American leaders slopped over into American news print.

Thus came the reminder that Anthony Eden, heir to the mantle of Churchill, prime minister a few years ago, and who had been behind the scenes as well as under the spotlight through so many world-shaking dramas, should indeed have a great story to tell.

TOLD PROPERLY, the saga of gentlemanly Anthony Eden and his long Odyssey through years both quiet and turbulent should fill three volumes.

At least a third of a first volume should review his genteel, late Victorian boyhood in England's North Country; his dreary grind through Eton; the trenches of Flanders whence he emerged scarred by honored wounds, decorated for valor as a tall, still beardless captain; and his subsequent breeze through Oxford to academic honors in Oriental languages, thence to politics
and the House of Commons.
Volume one would appropriately end with his first entry to the Cabinet of bumbling Stanley Bal-win, which was richly earned by a meteoric, youthful, political rise that had not been hindered by marriage into a family of even more wealth and influence than his own.

VOLUME TWO should reveal Eden as England's minister for League of Nations affairs and his emergence as a world figure,
handsome, idealistic, the symbol of a world's bright hope for a

Oregon Pulls Stunning Upset In NCAA Playoffs As Other Favorites Win

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The unheralded Oregon Webfoots from the Pacific Northwest were the surprise of the NCAA championship basketball tournament Friday night.

Beaten nine times during the regular season, Oregon was considered a setup for sixth-ranked Utah (25-2) champions of the Skyline Conference. But almost before the Utes knew what was happening they were 11 points behind. They never caught up and were beaten 65-54 in the Far West regional semifinals at Seattle.

The surprising Oregon boys face California, the defending champions, in the regional final tonight.

Three Win Handily

Cincinnati, California and Ohio State, rated 1-2-3 in the final Associated Press poll of the season, had little trouble joining Oregon in the national quarterfinals. However, fifth-ranked West Virginia, like Utah, hit the dust. The Southern Conference champs were tripped by New York University 82-81 in overtime. Georgia Tech, Duke and Kansas also reached the round of eight.

This is the setup for tonight's regional finals which will determine the four teams to go to the national semifinals and final at San Francisco next Friday and Saturday.

Eastern at Charlotte, N.C.: NYU vs. Duke.

Midwest at Louisville, Ky: Georgia Tech vs. Ohio State.

Midwest at Manhattan, Kan.: Kansas vs. Cincinnati.

Far West at Seattle: Oregon vs. California.

West's Effort Futile

All-America Jerry West scored 34 points for West Virginia, but it wasn't enough to balk NYU. The Violets' Russ Cunningham popped in a jump shot with four seconds left in regulation time to tie the game 77-77. Then, with only eight seconds left in the extra period, Cunningham flipped in a free throw that sealed the doom of the Mountaineers.

Duke, which surprised by winning the Atlantic Coast Conference championship last week, lifted more eyebrows by nipping St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 58-36.

Ohio University nearly surprised Georgia Tech, but the SEC boys finished in front 57-54.

Buckeyes Rally

Ohio State, the Big Ten champion, were seven points behind Western Kentucky at halftime, then virtually blasted the Hilltoppers off the court at Louisville with a 61-point second half for a 90-79 victory.

Kansas trailed Texas at the half, but Wayne Highower scored 22 points for the Wildcats in the second half and they whipped the Southwest Conference champs 90-81.

It was a cakewalk for Cincinnati and All-America Oscar Robertson as they walloped DePaul 99-59. Robertson bagged 29 points. It was a breeze for California, too. The defending champs walloped Santa Clara 69-49 and their famous defense was never sharper.

Clinches Title

Glenn Moore, 6-7 pivot man, sparked the Oregon upset. He held Utah's ace, 6-9 Billy McGill to 6 points for the entire game. Moore was ably assisted by Chuck Rusk who virtually took care of Utah's full court press all by himself. Rusk finished with 18 points and Moore 19.

Evansville (Ind.) College won the NCAA small college championship for the second straight year with a 90-60 romp over Chapman (Calif.) in the tourney final at Evansville, Kentucky. Wesleyan beat Cornell of Iowa 86-76 for third place.

The Westminster titans of New Wilmington, Pa. ended the three-year reign of Tennessee A & I State as NAIA champions. They nipped the Southern team 39-38 in the semifinals of the NAIA tourney at Kansas City. Southwest Texas beat William Jewell 82-44 in the other semifinal and will meet Westminster for the title tonight.

Firing resumes today in the National Invitation Tourney with afternoon - night doubleheaders in New York.

The first matinee game pits St. Bonaventure against Holy Cross. In the second, to be national television, Utah State battles Villanova. The night twin bills find Dayton against Temple and St. Louis against Providence.

Games Tonight On High School Floor

A basketball doubleheader is scheduled this evening on the Gettysburg High School floor, the feature game pitting the senior members of the varsity squad against the faculty.

At 7 o'clock all six teams of the Optimist Junior League will take part in a special exhibition. Three "games" of one-quarter duration will be played.

The games are sponsored by the high school Varsity Club and proceeds will be used to purchase jackets.

The regular Saturday evening recreation dance has been cancelled and instead the Varsity Club will sponsor a dance following the games.

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—The first 10-race program in Maryland's history was scheduled at Bowie today as the track reopened after to resume its weather-interrupted meeting. The 10-race card is the first of four scheduled for the remainder of the meet to make up four races wiped out by snow Feb. 13.

MANTLE DOES NOT EYE FAN POPULARITY

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle doesn't expect to be any more popular with New York fans even if he fulfills his ambition this year of hitting .350 and leading the American League in runs batted in.

The Yankee slugger made this surprising statement Friday after taking a $7,000 pay cut in signing for $65,000. The 28-year-old center field star flew into town from his Dallas home Thursday night and came to terms with General Manager George Weiss Friday morning after a two-minute conference.

The popularity angle was injected by Weiss, who expressed the hope that Mantle has a big year in 1960 so that Mickey could, in addition to helping the team win the pennant, regain his popularity with the Yankee Stadium fans.

Is Not Overpaid

Mantle didn't seem too concerned.

"I didn't know I was ever popular," he said. "I had a couple of pretty good years and it didn't help me much."

Mickey didn't appear overjoyed at his signing. He returned the first contract last February calling for $55,000 and ignored a second offer calling for $60,000.

Manager Casey Stengel, obviously relieved to see Mantle in uniform, said: "There are times when Mantle has a good day that you don't need any other players. When he's hot, the Yankees are not a cold club."

Last year Mantle batted only .285, hit 31 home runs and drove in only 75 runs. The Yankees finished third.

Earlier this week Yogi played third in an intrasquad game and was doing OK until Mickey Douglass and Andy Carey, the most likely Yankee third basemen, bunted on Berra. McDougall beat his out for a hit, and Carey would have if the ball had not gone foul.

Despite Casey's casual comments, there might just be something to "Berra, 3b." Carey, ill most of last season, has never been the hitter Casey would like at third. McDougall has had two consecutive bad seasons at the plate and is considered slower than he used to be in the field. In fact, Gil is Yankee trade bait and will most likely go to Washington if the Yanks can swing a deal for a pitcher.

Howard May Take Over

Elston Howard, already better than many of the starting catchers in baseball, would take over behind the plate for the Yanks if Yogi were moved to third.

Mantle finally came to camp Friday and signed for $65,000, a cut of $7,000.

Minnie Minoos was expected to sign with the pennant-winning Chicago White Sox today at Sarasota for about $45,000.

That would leave Lew Burdette, the Milwaukee Braves' No. 1 right-handed pitcher, as the majors' only big holdout. Milwaukee's relief pitcher, Don McMahon, signed Friday, but Braves' second baseman Bobby Avila and outfielder Wes Covington were still holding out.

Marty Keough, Red Sox outfielder, bruised in an automobile accident early Thursday, was back in uniform and ready to play at the Boston training camp at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Griffith, 22-year-old New Yorker, won by split decision over Moyer, 20, of Portland, Ore., Friday night at Madison Square Garden, in a close, lively battle that deserves an encore.

All of the principals were agreed on that but with the Garden closed to boxing because of the circus in April and early May, the question was where and when?

Suggests Derby Eve

"How about Derby Eve in Louisville," suggested Flaherty, Moyer's manager. "I'd like to see the Kentucky Derby. I think the kid would like that, too."

Garden matchmaker Teddy Brenner said he would talk to Louisville promoter Bill King about putting on the fight, which also would be telecast and broadcast as part of the Friday night program.

Griffith is eager for the return bout because he feels he can whip Moyer decisively.

"I won all right but I should have done it by a bigger margin," said Emile.

It was an important victory just the same for Griffith, a pro only 21 months. It was his fourth straight win for a 17-1 record. Moyer, who had won four in a row, now has a 2-4 record.

Ranked Tenth

Although he is ranked tenth and Moyer ninth in the welterweight division by the NBA, Griffith was a 9-5 favorite. The sleek Virgin Islands native earned his victory margin in the first half of the crisp-punching battle as the baby-faced West Coast rallied in the closing stages. Each weighed 150.

The two judges, Artida Aiala and Leo Birnbaum, each had Griffith ahead, 5-4, in rounds. Referee Harry Kessler scored it 4-1 in favor of Moyer. The AP card had it even, five rounds apiece.

Evansville Again College Champion

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Host Evansville today ruled as king of NCAA College Division basketball for the second straight year.

The Purple Aces overwhelmed little Chapman College of Orange, Calif., 90-69, in the championship game Friday night before a wild cheering throng of 9,000 in Roberts Municipal Stadium.

The three-day finale drew a total of 27,336 fans despite the city's worst snow conditions since 1918—an attendance increase of 24.9 per cent over last year.

The rugged Evansville team, outshooting Chapman from the floor 493 per cent to 234 and outrebounding the Panthers 55-41, had the title wrapped up by halftime, romping to a 41-25 lead.

Kentucky Wesleyan won third place with an 86-76 victory over Cornell of Iowa.

Lion Matmen Are Picked For Title

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Un-defeated Penn State loomed today as a favorite to win the eastern intercollegiate wrestling championships.

The Nittany Lions, seeded first in the tourney, took the lead Friday with 19 points in the opening round, sending seven men into today's semifinal round.

Heavyweight John Oberly of Penn State pinned Army's Dale Kuhns in the quarterfinals to give the Nittany Lions the edge over Lehigh, which compiled 18 points.

Pitt was in third place with 16 points; Syracuse, fourth, with 12; and Cornell and Franklin and Marshall tied for fifth with 10.

Lloyd of Upper Darby became the first Bloomsburg basketball player ever to make the first squad in the nine-year history of conference all star teams.

David Russell of Mansfield, Jim Bishop of Millersville, George Wise of Indiana and John Scott of Shippensburg were the other players named to the first squad.

The selections, announced Friday, were made by the 14 coaches in the conference.

The second team:

Ed McFarlane, Slippery Rock; Russ Hopewell, East Stroudsburg; Jim Rose, West Chester; Frank Crisi, California; Tony LaScala, Kutztown.

Honorable Mentions: Dick DiBlasso, Mansfield; Gary Smith, Clarion; Norman Shuto-vish, Bloomsburg; Don Ayers, Lock Haven; Walt Askins, Edinboro; Sam Sherwood, Indiana; Jack Bish, Kutztown; Don Thorn, Shippensburg; Nelson Phillips, West Chester; Ed Williams, Cheyney.

Although Yogi, one of baseball's finest catchers, has played the outfield and first base with some regularity, the third base listing came as somewhat of a surprise.

Stengel brushed it off with, "What do you want me to do, have him catch. I want to use other catchers here (in training). How about John Blanchard (reserve catcher)? He's been down here for two years and nobody's seen him yet."

PRETTY MISS, SNAKE SCARE BOLD SCRIBES

By HAL MCCLURE

NEW YORK (AP)—An adventurous socialite from Philadelphia flew in from the Brazilian jungles Friday with a smuggled snake, a hairless dog and a breathless tale of spear-hunting for jaguar.

But a news conference she called was as wild as any jungle adventure—especially, after she freed her 12-foot-long pet anaconda.

Pretty Stella (Sissy) Reeves, 27, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reeves, journeyed to the wilds of northwest Brazil last June, spear in hand, to kill a jaguar. She died, too.

Nearly a dozen newsmen and photographers were assembled in an eighth-floor suite at Manhattan's staid Algonquin Hotel when Miss Reeves arrived. Aides carried a footlocker.

Adam Is A Snake

"What's in the box?" asked one photog.

"That's Adam," said Miss

Reeves.

She opened the lid. The foot-locker was stuffed with the anaconda.

Miss Reeves said she found

Adam in the jungle and smuggled him out of Brazil by hiding him

under a false bottom in her trunk.

She also brought along a little hairless hunting dog.

She said she spent 34 days on the jungle trail before spearing

a 340-pound jaguar. She admitted

a couple of rifle shots also were needed to finish off the big cat.

The photographers wanted her to pose with the snake.

"Stand in a circle and be quiet,"

commanded Miss Reeves, a petite strawberry blonde.

She took off her shoes, grabbed

Adam and gently tossed him into the center of the room.

"I'm deathly afraid of snakes,"

said one photographer, leaping

nimbly onto a window sill.

Adam, tongue forking wildly, slithered toward a wall. Two male reporters hastily joined the photographer in the window. The women writers watched from the hall.

Barred From Home

"He's not poisonous," said Miss

Reeves, flinging Adam around her neck.

Miss Reeves wrestled with

Adam for several minutes while photographers—from a distance—

popped their flash bulbs and cried

"Don't let go, for Pete's sake."

Then it was over and Adam was pushed back into his footlocker.

Miss Reeves sighed and said:

"I talked with mother today and she said: 'Don't bring that darned snake home.'"

Total Eclipse Of

Moon Due Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—The full

moon will take on a weird,

coppery-red glow Sunday at 2:41

a.m. Eastern Standard Time as it is totally eclipsed by the earth's shadow for an hour and 25 minutes.

The eclipse, which will be visible in all parts of the Western

Hemisphere, weather permitting,

will be the first complete lunar

eclipse since November
